

ARIZONA LAW IS CAUSE OF PROTEST

Great Britain Claims Clause That Eighty Percent of Corporation Members Must Be Americans is Unjust.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Important diplomatic negotiations are certain to ensue as a result of Great Britain's action in calling attention of the state department to the Arizona state law which provides substantially that 80 per cent of the members of corporations must be citizens of the United States.

The British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, called at the state department Thursday and left a document on the subject of the Arizona law, but neither Mr. Bryan nor Counselor Lansing of the department has yet made an answer. In fact it was stated that the department did not desire to discuss this question at all at the present time.

So far as can be gathered from officials, the issue raised by Great Britain is parallel in its general aspects with that raised by Japan in the California alien land law cases.

The general charge in both the English and Japanese cases, it is understood by officials, will be that there is a violation of treaty agreements.

The charge by Japan is that the United States in the California case has violated the treaty of 1911 and it is hinted that Great Britain in the Arizona case maintains that the law would violate the equality of treatment for British and American subjects mutually in their respective countries, which is guaranteed by all the English-American treaties of commerce and amity.

In connection with this action of Great Britain it is said Thursday that it probably explains a call Wednesday of the Japanese ambassador at the state department, the purpose of which was not revealed by Sec'y of State Bryan. It is known, nevertheless, that when the California alien land law was under discussion Arizona was considering legislation which that such legislation was called to the attention of the state department by the Japanese foreign office.

The legislation at that time seemed to Japan to be erected more against Japan than against any other nation and Japan's complaint was on that line.

Sec'y of State Bryan would not discuss any of the phases of the Japanese and English diplomatic suggestions on Thursday, but it was stated that the question raised by Great Britain "was not necessarily serious." It has not yet reached the solicitor of the state department, but the Japanese probably have it Friday morning for consideration and reply.

CURSES! HE'S A VILLIUN

Nice Movie Lady Plashed on Charge of Attempting Suicide.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Miss Neal Kenney, an Australian professional swimmer, was to have jumped from Brooklyn bridge for the movies at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Miss Kenney showed up on the bridge at the appointed hour in an automobile with a big fur coat covering a one-piece bathing suit, the only apparel she wore. As she was leaving the car Patrolman Arthur J. Brown arrested her on the charge of attempted suicide and took her to police headquarters in Brooklyn.

BELGRADE TAKEN AT POINT OF BAYONET

Servian and Austrian Stories of Capture of Belgrade Are Different.

LONDON, DEC. 4.—A dispatch from Budapest says Belgrade which was captured Wednesday was stormed at the point of the bayonet and that the Austro-Hungarian troops rushed the defenses at the west side of the town and completely occupied it Thursday morning when the soldiers marched in cheering.

Servian advices, however, are that the city was evacuated as part of a well considered plan. Four months ago the capital was deserted as offering no means for defense. Servia, it is said, has not lost a single battle of importance. Forty-eight hours after the Servians evacuated Vukovo the Austrians occupied the place and it is declared that the repeated Austrian reports of victories are untrue.

The Servian army now plans to concentrate further south as it is in large enough to hold the extended front along the Drina river on the lower Danube.

Reports of further Servian defeats to the east of the Kolubara and Ljig rivers, according to the Berlin dispatch, tends to confirm the prediction of German military observers that the end of Servian resistance cannot be far off.

CANAL WOULD BE EASY TO CAPTURE

Country in No Position to Defend Panama From Capture is Assertion Made By Sen. Wotherspoon.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Mad. Gen. W. W. Wotherspoon, chief of staff of the U. S. A., has informed Pres't Wilson that it would be impossible to protect the Panama canal from a foe in the present state of the national defenses.

The Philippines, Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands, he declares, are all in a similar defenseless condition. "That the great waterway of the Panama canal cannot be protected against the operations of a first class military power," says Gen. Wotherspoon, "by the present or proposed garrison we contemplate placing there, without the power and ability to reinforce it rapidly by troops from the United States is equally manifest."

And he adds: "Without a material change in conditions at home we have no available resources from which to reinforce them, even should time be given to us to do so."

This revelation of the weakness of the national defenses is made in a report dated Nov. 15, 1914, which Gen. Wotherspoon made to Sec'y of War Garrison, by whom it was referred to the president.

The chief of staff referred to the defenses of the Philippines as "manifestly impossible under existing conditions" and characterized the garrison of Alaska as "ridiculous."

In other respects more over the report is sensational in its confirmation it affords from the uniformed head of the army of the charge made from outside sources of the complete inadequacy of the army establishment to cope with any situation which might arise. He notes the fact quite incidentally for instance that the army is 1,545 officers and 7,533 enlisted men below its authorized strength and that there is a total deficiency in the coast artillery corps of the regular army and the organized militia of 456 officers and 24,489 enlisted men.

It was through figures officially supplied in reports by Gen. Wotherspoon that the first inkling was obtained that there is only sufficient ammunition on hand for our coast defenders to give half an hour's battle to an enemy. To this may also be added in general Wotherspoon's own words as presented to the president:

"The deficiencies in the matter of fire control and searchlights are of the most serious character. As a result of the lack of proper fire control and searchlight installation is only maintained in a limited number of first class defense areas, the remainder of the fire control systems and searchlight equipment being deficient or improvised."

KEEP HEAVY GUARD OF ARMED MEN OVER CAPTURED BOER LEADER

PRETORIA, South Africa, Dec. 4.—A strong guard of armed troops is being maintained over Gen. Christian de Wet, the leader of the rebellious Boers, who was captured by Col. Brits on Monday. Gen. Botha, the premier, has sent orders to Vryburg to exercise every care to prevent the followers of Gen. de Wet from trying to effect his escape.

A telegram from Vryburg quotes Gen. de Wet as saying that he considers himself a patriot. "I only did what I considered my duty," he declared.

Lieut. Col. von Malwitz, commander of the British and loyal Boer forces at Plesburg, in Orange Free State, reports that he has cleared the mountains between Fouriesburg and Naauwpoort in the southern part of that state of rebels. He captured 25 men and more than 100 pieces, and 21 other rebels surrendered without any resistance.
